College to Career Diversity Internship Program (CDIP)

Creating the next generation of health care leaders

California faces an exploding demand for health care workforce on all levels. In its commitment to driving solutions, the Hospital Association of Southern California (HASC) has developed an exciting program to address this issue.

HASC's College to Career Diversity Internship Program (CDIP) is a comprehensive, paid summer internship program designed to accelerate efforts to address workforce diversity and shortage objectives in health care professions.

CDIP partners HASC with Health Career
Connection (HCC) to attract and place talented, diverse undergraduate students and recent college graduates. Through intensive 10-week internships, CDIP interns develop professionally, further clarify their health care interests, and take multiple steps toward becoming future health care administrators and top managers.

Real Career Success

Ikenna Mmeje, COO of Long Beach
Memorial Medical Center, is an HCC alumni and an American College of Healthcare Executives Fellow. He has served in various leadership positions at Sierra
Vista Hospital, Inc., Doctors
Hospital of Manteca, Sutter Health, and Tenet Health.

Mr. Mmeje tells us HCC was a stepping stone to finding his authentic health career, and is one of many CDIP success stories.

A Proven Track Record

100%

of CDIP preceptors say hosting an intern is a good return on investment

95%

of CDIP preceptors were satisfied with their intern's contribution to the organization

75%

of CDIP alumni are now employed and working in health-related fields

CDIP adds value to your HASC membership by providing access to HCC's program management/support and 30-year alumni network database. This powerful tool will help to efficiently recruit and support staff, while also advancing diversity and cultural competency initiatives.

Top-Performing Interns

CDIP interns are top-performing, diverse students/ graduates with exceptional motivation to serve underrepresented communities throughout the HASC region. They also are:

- From top local and national colleges and universities
- Pursuing or have received a degree connected to health care
- Experienced (two-year minimum) in campus and community leadership, including behavioral/mental health, administration, nursing, medicine, and human relations
